

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

This study was attempted to investigate the effectiveness of AudioBook media that can increase the students reading achievements. On the pre-test and the posttest of control class and treatment class, the researcher use independent sample t-test to compare two groups. The results in control class, showed that post-test only had a slightly different mean. The mean in control group is 76.50 while the mean in experimental group is 80. It means there is significance different between experimental and control group after giving the treatment by using AudioBook media.

The researcher realizes that there are so many learning media to be used in teaching English. Some teachers used the learning media as their favorite based on their experience. So the researcher can be showed the conclusion that the AudioBook is one of the so many good learning media which is applicable in teaching English because:

1. It can increase the students' vocabulary, because the vocabulary in narrative text is more understandable.
2. Enjoyable, because the AudioBook media not only provide in script text, but also provide in audio.
3. It can increase students' interest in short story fable, legend, and mite.

4. It can amuse the students that is appropriate with narrative texts' purpose.

B. Suggestion

Based on the research, the researcher assumed that there was any significant difference on students' reading achievements without and using AudiBook media. There are the researcher has some suggests for English teacher, and further researcher, the suggestion as follows:

1. English Teacher

For English teacher giving appropriate and interesting media is one important thing in learning activity. So, by using interesting media it's hoped that the students more enjoyable and active in the learning process. Reading is one complicated activity for students. The teacher should be chosen media to teach with media that make students will learn optimally. In this case, the researcher gives the suggestion for AudioBook media to teach reading in narrative text.

2. Further Researcher

The researcher realizes that this research so hard to be a perfect research. The researcher hope someday this research can be useful for further researcher, especially that will be conduct the researcher that have similar points in reading narrative, and AudioBook media. It also helped them to use this finding as an additional reference and thought in conducting the nest research. The expectation, that this research can give more knowledge and information of AudioBook that using especially on teaching reading. Moreover, it is recommended for the further researcher because they can develop their media used in learning English language especially in reading narrative text.

C. The Delimitation

This study has several limitations; first, the findings were only based on student's reading score in VIII B and C class MTsN 2 Kota Blitar. Thus, the participant was only the representative of second grade of MTsN 2 Kota Blitar. The second, this research use written text, the researcher does not use media such as mp3, video, pictures. It is necessary for further researcher to use completely media like video, pictures to improve students motivation in reading.
