Inter-Rater Reliability Analysis

Reliability coefficient is the scale that represents the reliability of the test. It allows us to compare the reliability of different test. To get reliability coefficient the researcher uses inter-rater reliability. It means that by using inter-rater reliability there will be two scores from one students' descriptive writing. Here, the researcher is the first rater, and the researcher asked a friend to be rater

2. The researcher use scoring rubric to evaluate students' descriptive writing. Then, the two score will be compared to know the reliability coefficient. The range of reliability coefficient is 0-1. The description of scoring rubric, students' score, and SPSS calculation are presented below.

A. The Aspects of Scoring Rubric

Aspects	4	3	2	1
Content	Main ideas stated clearly and accurately, change of opinion very clear	Main ideas stated fairly clear and accurate, change of opinion relatively clear	Main ideas somewhat clear unclear and inaccurate, change of opinion somewhat weak	Main ideas not clear or accurate, change of opinion is weak
Organization	All sentences are organized in good order	Most sentences are organized in good order	Some sentences are organized in a good order	Only few sentences are organized in a good order
Sentence Problem	None of the sentences	Few of the sentences	Some of the sentences	Most of the sentences contains fragments, comma splice, choppy sentence, and stringy sentence	contain fragments, comma splice, choppy sentence, and stringy sentence	contain fragments, comma splice, choppy sentence, and stringy sentence	contain fragments, comma splice, choppy sentence, and stringy sentence

Vocabulary / word choice	Very effective and engaging use of word choice	Effective choice of word	Adequate choice of word but some misuse of vocabulary	Inaccurate choice of word, which obscure meaning
Mechanic (Spelling, punctuation, capitalization and tense)	Writer makes no errors in Spelling, punctuation, capitalization and grammar that distract the reader from the content	Writer makes 1-2 errors in Spelling, punctuation, capitalization and grammar that distract the reader from the content	Writer makes 3-4 errors in Spelling, punctuation, capitalization and grammar that distract the reader from the content	Writer makes more than 4 errors in Spelling, punctuation, capitalization and grammar that distract the reader from the content

The Criteria of Result

Score	Criteria
17 - 20	Very good
13 - 16	Good
9 - 12	Fair
5 - 8	Poor

Total score = 20

$$\text{Score} = S = \frac{f}{N} \times 100$$

Where,

S : Students' Score

f : the number of score gotten by students

N: total score

C. SPSS Calculation

Correlations		Rater 1	Rater 2
Rater 1	Pearson Correlation	1	.797
	Sig. (2-tailed)		.000
	N	29	29
Rater 2	Pearson Correlation	.797	1
	Sig. (2-tailed)	.000
	N	29	29

** . Correlation is significant at the 0.01 level (2-tailed).

The table is the result of calculation by using Pearson Product Moment formula. It shows that the value is 0.797. The significance value is 2-tailed. According to Hughes (1989:40) the ideal reliability coefficient is 1. Where the result closed to 1, it means that the test is reliable. On the contrary, where the result of reliability coefficient is zero, it is not reliable. To sum up, based on the result of calculation gained in this research, the researcher conclude that the instrument is reliable because it has reliability coefficient 0.797
