CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This part presents the conclusion and suggestion of the research.

A. Conclusion

Literature is a form of human creativity in passing on information, opinion, and idea. It can also be interpreted as a way to express feeling and thought. Literature reflects human life and extends the values or social facts within the society using language as the media.

Novel as one of literary works consists of some elements of fiction. The elements are generally divided into two major categories, which are the intrinsic and extrinsic elements. These elements will be found by a reader in reading a literary work, such as novel. The intrinsic elements, among the others, consist of plot, character, theme, background, point of view, and figurative language.

When reading Origin novel by Dan Brown the researcher interest with one character, it is Winston, the Artificial Intelligence (AI). It is non-human character that have very important role in the plot.

After conducting the research the researcher found that the characters of Winston are accurate, clever, provocative, humorous, impressive, creative, manipulative and faithful. He also influence other characters. The researcher found that Winston has big influence to others people in making decision.

B. Suggestion

The researcher realizes that this research yet is not perfect. Therefore, the writer would like to give some suggestions that may be useful for further researches. The suggestions are aimed to the readers, further researchers, or anyone who is interested in conducting the same research topic. They are:

Further researchers that are interested in conducting research with similar topic are suggested to find more theories that is relevant to characterization in a fictional works.

Further researchers that are interested in conducting research with similar topic are suggested to not to only focus on the character, but also relate it to the other intrinsic elements, such as plot, setting, theme, etc.

Further researchers are suggested to learn from this research by considering the strength and the weaknesses of this paper as a reference to produce a better research.

All readers are suggested to read comprehensively and understand the story of any literary work before conducting a study on it, because understanding the story is very important for a literary work research.
