The thesis with the title "The Role of the Manpower and Transmigration Service in Reducing Unemployment Rates (Case Study in the Field of Placement, Expanding Job Opportunities and Transmigration in Tulungagung Regency)" was written by Riris Meilinda Aqirin, NIM. 126402202151, Sharia Economics Study Program, with supervisor Dr. Mochamad Chobir Sirad, M.Pd.I.

This research is motivated by the high unemployment rate in Tulungagung Regency which is caused by the low placement of job seekers in the job market because job growth is not commensurate with growth in the workforce and due to the Covid-19 pandemic. With the role of the government through the Tulungagung Regency Manpower and Transmigration Service, it is hoped that it will be able to reduce the unemployment rate in Tulungagung Regency.

The focus of this research is (1) What is the condition of unemployment in Tulungagung Regency? (2) What is the role of the Placement, Expansion of Job Opportunities and Transmigration Division of the Tulungagung Regency Manpower and Transmigration Office in reducing the unemployment rate in Tulungagung Regency? (3) How is the implementation of the programs carried out by the Placement, Expansion of Job Opportunities and Transmigration Division of the Manpower and Transmigration Department of Tulungagung Regency in reducing the unemployment rate in Tulungagung Regency.

This research uses qualitative research methods with a qualitative descriptive approach and case studies (field research). The data used in this research are primary data and secondary data with data collection methods through observation, interviews and documentation. The analysis techniques used are data condensation, data exposure, and drawing conclusions/verification. Checking the validity of the findings uses triangulation techniques with sources and technical triangulation.

The results of this research show that, (1) The condition of unemployment in Tulungagung Regency is dominated by open unemployment and underemployment. (2) The Field of Placement, Expansion of Job Opportunities and Transmigration. The Tulungagung Regency Manpower and Transmigration Office has the role of carrying out a series of programs to reduce the unemployment rate, including a workforce placement program with inter-work service activities through Inter-Local Work Placement (AKL), Inter-Regional Work Placement (AKAD), and Inter-Country Employment (AKAN), labor-intensive, management of Labor Market Information through job fair/job market, PMI protection (pre- and post-placement) through entrepreneurship training and demigration programs, as well as transmigration area development programs. (3) These programs have been successfully implemented so that they can reduce the unemployment rate in Tulungagung Regency, although it is still not significant, as evidenced by the data, the number of unemployed people in 2022 reached 40,148 people and in 2023 it fell to 37,579 people.
