

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION & SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

After analyzing the reading texts in the Contextual Teaching and Learning Bahasa Inggris textbook which is used for the second grade junior high school, the writer have concluded about the genre of the text and the linguistic feature of the text. There are three genre of the text; those are recount, descriptive, and narrative. In linguistic feature, there are the part of speech and grammar.

The writer analyzed the genre of the text; those are social function and generic structure. Also, part of speech; those are noun, conjunction, adjective, adverb, verb, pronoun, and preposition. The writer analyzed that almost all of the text is dominated by noun. There are twelve text included recount, descriptive, and narrative is dominated by noun. Only two text in narrative is dominated by verb. In grammar, the writer found in recount text is using past tense, in descriptive text is using present tense, and in narrative text is using past tense.

B. Suggestion

Based on the result of the genre analysis of reading text in the textbook, it is suggested that the readers and writers do further study about genre analysis. So, it will give them knowledge to select and to increase the quality of understanding the genre reading text and the features in the textbook.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION & SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

After analyzing the reading texts in the Contextual Teaching and Learning Bahasa Inggris textbook which is used for the second grade junior high school, the writer have concluded about the genre of the text and the linguistic feature of the text. There are three genre of the text; those are recount, descriptive, and narrative. In linguistic feature, there are the part of speech and grammar.

The writer analyzed the genre of the text; those are social function and generic structure. Also, part of speech; those are noun, conjunction, adjective, adverb, verb, pronoun, and preposition. The writer analyzed that almost all of the text is dominated by noun. There are twelve text included recount, descriptive, and narrative is dominated by noun. Only two text in narrative is dominated by verb. In grammar, the writer found in recount text is using past tense, in descriptive text is using present tense, and in narrative text is using past tense.

B. Suggestion

Based on the result of the genre analysis of reading text in the textbook, it is suggested that the readers and writers do further study about genre analysis. So, it will give them knowledge to select and to increase the quality of understanding the genre reading text and the features in the textbook.

